

Semi-Weekly Interior Journal.

VOL. XIV.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, JULY 14, 1885.

NO. 38.

Semi-Weekly Interior Journal

Published Tuesdays and Fridays
AT $2.00 PER ANNUM

When paid strictly in advance. If not paid to wait any time, $2.50 will be charged.

W. P. WALTON.

CRAB ORCHARD, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Miss Nannie Wood, of Danville, is visiting Miss Louanna James. Miss Nannie Gilmore, of Pulaski, is visiting Mrs. J. H. Hutchings. Miss Maggie Dunn, of county, is visiting Mrs. Whit Montgomery. Misses Kate Hays and Laura Adams have returned home, full-fledged teachers, having secured a State's certificate by graduating at Glasgow Normal School.

—The Trustees of the Crab Orchard High School have not secured a male principal as yet. They wish to rent the College building to a male teacher of experience for one or more years and allow him to employ his own assistants, set his own prices, &c. A good attendance of pupils can be secured. Prof. Rice had over a hundred pupils upon his roll last session.

—Joe Jones, of this place, was shot by Bob Chappel, a lad of nineteen, at the "German Picnic" on the knobs last Saturday. The report brought from the scene of action was as follows: That Jones attended the picnic considerably under the influence of liquor and upon arriving upon the grounds struck a small boy of Thos. Chappel, Sr., with his buggy whip and the boy went to his father and brothers with his wrongs. Sometime afterwards Jones in company with some friends visited the beer saloon where Bob Chappel, a brother of the boy whipped by Jones, issued out the drinks. Aaron Chappel, another brother of the boy, was in the house when Jones came in, and asked Jones why he whipped the boy, when Jones remarked, "What have you got to do with it and if you don't like it I'll give you some." When he suited the action to the words, and as he proceeded to whale Aaron Chappel, Bob drew his pistol from under the counter and fired at Jones, the shot taking effect in the body near the point of the ribs, ranging down and it is thought lodged in the hip, and as Jones felt Chappel fired a second shot which took effect near the lower jaw ranging up under the skin in front of the ear and coming out near the temple. Chappel followed up and would have fired the third shot but was caught and prevented from doing so by Thos. Fish, who was present. Jones was taken to the residence of Dan Anderson where he now remains. Your correspondent has not been able to see Jones or Chappel to hear their versions of the tragedy. It is likely that Jones will recover.

HON. JAMES W. TATE

The democratic nominee for State Treasurer writes the following card to the democratic voters of the State:

To the democracy of Kentucky: For some months past I have been a candidate for the office of State Treasurer, subject to the action of the democratic party. On the 12th of last June the Democratic Central and Executive Committees of the State met in the city of Frankfort and declared me the nominee of the democratic party for that office. This action on their part was taken without avivement or suggestion from me, and was in accordance with a precedent established as far back as 1859. I had then, and have now, no wish to run for the office of Treasurer in opposition to the wishes of the great body of the party throughout the State, and all the nomination I have received, either by the State Central Committee, or by the party in convention assembled, have been given to me without a canvass of the State. I can say of a truth that during the eighteen years I have held the office of Treasurer I have never been present, in my own interest, at a county convention called to appoint delegates to a State convention. If there had been opposing candidates I have no doubt the committees would have called a convention, and I should have urged them to do so, but in order to save the expense of an assembling of the State Democracy, and in view of the fact that in 1869, 1873, 1877 and 1882 I had been declared the nominee without protest or complaint, I accepted their nomination, believing then and believing now that I was and am the choice of the democratic party of the State.

I ask the suffrages of my fellow democrats upon the ground that I have faithfully discharged the duties of the office, have always been a democrat, and have devoted the best years of my life to the services of that party. If elected, I pledge my best efforts to the service of the whole people in the management of the State finances.

I write this, inasmuch as my duties will not allow me to visit the various counties, and as I shall not attempt a personal canvass of the State. Most respectfully,
JAMES W. TATE.

THIS IDEA OF GOING WEST

To Colorado or New Mexico, for pure air to relieve Consumption, is all a mistake. Any reasonable man would use Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup for Consumption in all its first stages. It never fails to give relief in all cases of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Pains in the Chest and all afflictions that are considered primary to Consumption. Price, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold by McRoberts & Stagg.

MT. VERNON DEPARTMENT.

Managed by Jno. B. Fish.

—Oats harvest is now over and a better crop is not usually grown in this county.

—About 35 teachers have obtained certificates to teach in the public schools to this date. There are 57 districts in the county.

—Blackberries are beginning to ripen. There is an immense crop of this fruit. They are selling at the usual price, 25 cents per bucket full.

—Jack Baker had an examining trial for conspiracy and attempt at rape and held over to circuit court under bond of $300. The examining trial of Charles Blair was held Saturday and resulted in his being held over to the August term of the Circuit Court in the sum of $300 which he failed to give and was placed in jail.

—While on a trip over the Kentucky Central railroad last Thursday we noticed a great deal of lumber at each station on said road. There are a number of new mills, I think about 10, and all of them are doing a thriving business. There are also a good many passengers traveling over that road and for the life of me, I can't see why there is not a regular passenger train put on the road south of Richmond.

—Mrs. L. S. Jones and family, of Louisville, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Williams. Mrs. Helen Brooks, of Paris, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Joplin. Miss Mollie Myers is visiting in Williamsburg this week. John L. Whitehead, of Williamsburg, spent a few days here last week. Mr. Hugh Grant, of Lancaster, was in town Saturday and Sunday. George Miller has returned after a 10 months' sojourn in Frankfort. Miller will resume the manufacture of boots and shoes at this place.

—On Friday, the 10th inst., there was a pleasant gathering of friends at the residence of Harrison Carpenter, of this place. It was the occasion of the joint birthdays of Mrs. Carpenter (neé Miss Patience Evans) and her grandson Harry Weber, of Knoxville, Tenn., who together with his mother, Mrs. W. M. Weber, and children are on a visit to relatives and friends in this county. Mrs. Carpenter reached her "three score years" on that day, and is healthy and hearty and bids fair for many years more of life and health, which her many friends present heartily wished her. Master Harry (named for his grandfather) was fifteen. The dinner given by the "Old Lady" was not only sumptuous and bountiful, but elegantly and tastefully arranged, and those present did ample justice by it. After dinner Hon. J. K. McClary, on the part of the ladies, presented Mrs. C. with a large number of unique and useful articles, from a handsome and valuable dress pattern, presented by her grandson Harry, down to the famous "cob pipe." The articles were too numerous to be here given, and when each had been presented the old lady's heart was full of appreciation that she could with difficulty express her thanks. Among those present we noticed Mrs. W. M. Weber and family, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. W. T. Brooks, of Paris; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McClure and family, of this county; Mrs. Wm. McClure, Sr., Rev. Jas. Crutcher and daughter, Col. Wm. Pointer and lady, Mrs. Kitty Bragg and daughter, Fannie, Mrs. Ann Fish, Miss Lucy Moore, Mrs. D. C. Pointer, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McClary, Mrs. J. L. Joplin, Mrs. J. W. Nesbit, Mrs. Jas. Houk, Mrs. Dr. A. G. Lovell, Miss Kate Moore, Mrs. John W. Brown, and others whose names we can not now recall. In the evening all the young folks of the town gathered in and had a nice social party, which was kept up till a late hour, refreshments being served about 10 o'clock and everyone passed a most enjoyable evening.

The pay of gaugers does not exceed $5 per day, and to earn that amount they must gauge 1,600 gallons. They are appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and are commissioned officers, but he may not be favored with a continuous assignment. No assignment, no pay.

The pay of a storekeeper is $4 per day when assigned to duty.

The pay of a storekeeper and gauger ranges from $2 to $4 per day when assigned to duty. He is required to give bond to the United States in the sum of $5,000. Gaugers give bond in the sum of $10,000, and storekeepers in the sum of $5,000. The assignments to duty are made by the Collector of Internal Revenue to whose district the officer may be appointed.

The clerks in the office are generally called deputies. The cashier and stamp deputes give bond to the Collector. They are sworn into office and have authority to administer oaths in matters pertaining to the department.

Kate Field's Love Lecture.

(Omaha Republican.)

Kate Field used to have a lecture on love.

She treated the subject from a purely theoretical and prejudiced standpoint.

One of her illustrations was in the nature of a comparison between the family circle and the heavenly bodies, in which she likened the children revolving around their parents in love to the planets in their revolution around the sun. A critic of that lecture remarked that he had noticed children revolving around their parents, and said they may have been inclined thereto by love, but that it looked powerfully like a trunk strap.

Gordon's Bitter Words.

(Gen. Gordon's Diary.)

I must say I hate our diplomats.

I am on the joy of never seeing Great Britain again, with its horrid, wearisome dinner-parties and miseries.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Smiley sells the cheapest and best coal Office corner 31 and Green streets.

—Mr. Tewmy sold 80 head of green mules to Hudson & Martin, of New Orleans, at $180 per head.

—Chas. Thacker, of Fort Spring, W. Va., was crushed to death while coupling cars at the Danville depot, Thursday afternoon.

—Mr. J. N. Richardson is closing out his stock of notions, confectionaries, restaurant fixtures, etc., at auction. T. D. English is the auctioneer.

—Mr. Wm. H. Hicks, who has had charge of Chandler's Steam Laundry for several months past, has leased the same and is now running it on his own account.

—Workmen are busily engaged in putting an iron front in the business house owned by H. C. Farris, on the Cor. of Main and 3d Streets and occupied by J. H. Gen-

English is the auctioneer.

—The old Central National Bank declared an additional dividend of 20 per cent on the 5th inst. This makes 150 per cent declared since the bank closed its regular business.

—The Danville Base-ball Club has challenged the Louisville professionals and are awaiting an answer naming the time and place for the contest. The Danvilles will have a Cincinnati battery. Fine playing is expected. The Danvilles are to play at Somerset Thursday and Friday.

—Col. J. W. Guest has at Magnolia farm a fine Leonatus colt out of Crescent by Australian. He is an exact duplicate of his great sire; also two very fine colts by Miser, a full brother to Spendthrift, one of them out of the dam of Dave Yandel, the other out of an Australian mare, all foaled this spring. Judge Jackson, the horse that has made a reputation as a hurdlie the past spring, was formerly used at Magnolia farm as a saddle horse.

—Mr. J. H. Davis, of this county, has invented a bee hive which seems to be superior to anything heretofore presented to the public. He claims for it among other things, 1st, that the peculiar construction of the hive counteracts all effects of sudden heat and cold and thus enables the bees to rear their young and make comb and store honey at all seasons; 2d, a superior feeder and lighting board, and 3d, of the manner of entrance. It is, he thinks, adopted to the wants of either large or small colonies.

—Mr. Arthur E. Gibbons has opened on 3d street, near the Postoffice, the first establishment in Danville ever devoted exclusively to the sale of fine wall and ceiling paper, paints, oils, and printers' supplies generally. His goods are arranged in tasteful and attractive style and his prices,

he claims, are even lower than city prices,

because his expenses for carrying on business here are less than they would be in a city. He invites all needing anything in his line to call and examine his stock. He guarantees all goods as represented and being a practical painter and paper hanger, knows whereof he speaks.

—Miss Mary McRoberts has closed her studio during the very warm weather, but may be seen by her patrons and friends at the home of Judge Fox on Harrodsburg avenue. Mrs. John O. Hodges, of Lexington, is spending a few days with her mother and sister, Mrs. H. Messick and Miss Lilly

Rev. Jas. S. Hayes, formerly of the Theological Seminary here, will shortly open a female college in Maysville. Mr.

and Mrs. John H. Stodghill are spending the hasted term with Mr. and Mrs. W. E.

Baughman in the country. Mrs. H. G.

Sandifer is visiting the family of her brother, Mr. J. M. Shrieve, of Greensburg. Mr.

Mark Chiles left to-day for Cumberland

Falls, where he will have charge of the hotel office. A party of young folks will recally be the close of the sessions, received by the clamor of those seeking

"stinkinks."

—ARE YOU MADE MISERABLE by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite,

Yellow Skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive curative for all these ills.

For sale by Penny & McAllister.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY, a positive

curative for Catarrh,

Seni-Weekly Interior Journal

Stanford, Ky., July 14, 1885

W. P. WALTON.

THAT Kentucky needs a new constitution every thinking man will admit. The present document is out of date, does not conform to the laws of the general government now in force and is defective in many particulars. The Courier Journal thus sums up some of the needs: "Kentucky needs laws which will punish murder. It needs to reorganize its judiciary department. It needs to have district courts which will hold all criminals to a strict accountability and a Supreme Court which will not on appeals reverse every decision for punishing murder. It needs a better and more comprehensive school system, a system which commends itself to the judgment of the people, and which they will liberally support by state and local taxation. It needs a constitutional provision which will make it impossible hereafter for the Legislature to waste the time and money of the people on local and special acts. It needs a more just and efficient system of taxation. It needs laws for protecting the State treasury from the rapacity of witnesses, clerks, sheriffs, idiots and guards; laws which will prevent the robbery of the people under the guise of "criminal prosecutions." Kentucky has less justice and pays more for it than any other State in the Union. It needs laws which will prevent the pardon of criminals before conviction; laws reforming the jury system; laws consolidating the counties; laws dividing the judicial districts; laws authorizing the Governor to assign Judges to special circuits; laws providing for the prompt removal and swift punishment of court officers who for any cause neglect their duties.

NOYES, of Ohio, one of the chief promoters of the fraud that kept Tilden from his rightful place in the White House, seems to possess a greater sense of propriety than Gov. Hoadley and others, who urged his appointment as Government Director of the Union Pacific, for he has refused to accept it. It is passing strange how a democratic administration could have ever been duped into appointing a man so utterly repugnant to every honest voter in the land. Hoadley attempts to explain his part in the matter as follows: "Having lived upon terms of intimate personal friendship with Gen. E. F. Noyes, having known him for thirty years and remembering that he had lost a foot in the service of his country, I suggested his name. The connection of General Noyes with the Florida case did not occur in my mind. Had I thought for a moment of the Florida incident I should have called it to the attention of the President and Secretary Lamar as a matter of good faith to them."

LAST winter there appeared at Hamlin, W. Va., a dashing young man named Ross Hammond, who by his polished manner and fine address soon won his way into the good graces of the unsuspecting young women of the town. But he was a designing scoundrel and not content with the betrayal of one sister worked his wiles on another and succeeded in blasting her reputation also. These young ladies had no brother, but silly as they had acted, they showed at the last that they were able to take care of themselves, for after decoying the heartless deceiver into a wood, they beat him senseless, put out one of his flashing blue eyes and otherwise injured him so that his life was despaired of. Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned and it is well that these two were so capable of wreaking their upon their betrayer.

JUDGE BECKNER writes to the Richmond Register that he did not say in his address at Berea College and for which he has received much unfavorable criticism: "This institution is a type of what we need throughout the South," but "what we see throughout the South." The explanation is a little thin and the paper addressed intimates as much. There is no sense nor truth in the revised report for no one "sees" any such thing as the Judge declares exists. The white people of the South do not need mixed schools and what is more they will not have them.

THE appointment of Mr. Dorsheimer to be District Attorney of New York is not approved by the World as the following will show: "Mr. Dorsheimer, after twenty years of political experience and self-seeking, finds himself back in the same style of office that he filled under Abraham Lincoln—District Attorneyship. Nevertheless he congratulates himself that he is better off than some of his old republican congeners, who, after holding office for 20 years, have now no official pegs whereupon to hang their hats."

Miscegenation is practiced in Washington to an extent that would be surprising to people outside of that city. According to police reports there are more than sixty cases in the district where black men have married and are living with white women. There is no law in the district against the intermarrying of the races, and the privilege has been indulged in to a disgusting extent. Most of the cases are people from Maryland and Virginia who left their own states to escape the law regulating such matters.

THE republicans in the 16th Senatorial District in convention assembled adopted two resolutions that will be indorsed irrespective of party. One demands the repeal of the law creating a Board of Equalization and the other that creating a Superior Court. The next Legislature will do away with both if the signs of the times are any indication.

THE republican State Central Committee decided that it is too late now to nominate a candidate for State Treasurer, adding so as to affect the State nomination as much as possible, "We as a committee have no right to present a candidate." A resolution was adopted earnestly recommending that in all counties and senatorial districts, where practical, candidates be presented, the party organized and a fight made. It will be love's labor lost though in most cases and candidates will be hard to find since there is no prospect of a Federal appointment for the sacrifice.

THE Georgia Legislature has a bill before it, which will in all probability become a law, to compel insurance companies to pay the full risks for which they accept premiums and to assess the value of property before fire and not after. Kentucky should also have such a statute. There is too much so called adjusting after a loss. When an insurance is taken and the premiums paid for a certain amount, that amount ought to be forthcoming without any dickerling, after the property is destroyed.

THE Pall Mall Gazette has aroused all London by substantiating its charge that the city harbors a hideous conspiracy for abducting the chaste daughters of poor men to glut the bestial desires of rich and high-placed libertines, with evidence that seems undeniable. One old scoundrel, it alleges, of wealth and position, has ruined over 2,000 girls, which his standing offer of $20 a head has brought him. The revelations are the most horrible and disgusting ever brought to light in a civilized community.

GEN. LUCIUS DESHA, for nearly a half century prominent in State and party affairs, died suddenly of apoplexy at his home in Harrison county, Saturday, aged 73 years. Among his many other excellent qualities he was a superior presiding officer and many a noisy democratic convention has yielded to his magnetic power and finished its business in order and dispatch.

IF either Col. Morrow or our friend Logan McKee wrote the manifesto to the republicans that appears over their names in yesterday's Courier-Journal, they should be court marshaled and shot, without the benefit of clergy. It is a wonderfully constructed production to be sure.

GEN. SIMON BOLIVAR BUCKNER called on Gen. Grant at McGregor Friday and the meeting is said to have been very affecting. They were class mates at West Point, but had not met before since Buckner surrendered to Grant at Fort Donelson.

THE Louisville Times asks, "Who is Robbins?" Let's see. Didn't a man of that name equal on one occasion when an attempt was made to collect a debt of honor, otherwise a gambling debt, out of him?

GEN. ROBINSON is "turning the rascals out" at a lively rate. Saturday he appointed 27 democrats to be storekeepers and gingers in place of as many republicans discharged.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—The old Postoffice building in Cincinnati is to be removed to Eden Park at a cost of $81,413.

—The special term of the Letcher county Circuit Court, Judge Wm. L. Jackson presiding, begins July 20.

—Marcus Tullius Cicero Stanley, one of the founders of the Louisiana State Lottery demoralizer, died at New York.

—In spite of the prohibitory law in Iowa there has been an increase of 146 saloons in 19 cities, in which are 916 saloons.

—Thomas B. Hardin, Jr., of Bardstown, is to be made Appointment Clerk of the Department of Justice, to succeed Gen. Ewing, of Ohio.

—Hon. J. H. Jessie, present member of the Legislature from Woodford and a candidate for re-election, died Saturday of Bright's disease.

—Mahone's official brigade in Virginia has been so decimated by removals, suspensions and resignations, that scarcely a corporal guard remains.

—There are about 530 deputy collectors, storekeepers and gaugers in Kentucky. It is estimated that there will be 8,000 applicants for these positions.

—Wm. H. Pudney, the aged sexton of St. George's church, New York City, has been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment for criminally assaulting a girl ten years of age.

—The design of the new ten-cent stamp which when attached to a letter will insure its immediate delivery in any part of a free delivery town, has been accepted. Its use will be a great saving of telegraphic tolls.

—President Cleveland has offered the Liberian mission to the Rev. G. W. Bryant, pastor of the African M. E. Church in Nashville. This is the second honor conferred upon the colored race by the democratic President.

—At Lincoln, N. C., Sidney Beatty put some powder on a ringworm on his neck, and went to work in his blacksmith shop. A spark fell on the powder, which exploded and tore out part of his neck, producing an injury likely to prove fatal.

—There is serious trouble threatened between the ranches on the Cherokee outlet and Texas drovers. The former object to the driving of the latter's stock over their ranches on the trip North, and 1,500 head have been stopped. A conflict is likely.

—In the Sixteenth Senatorial District, the candidates for the Senate are Judge W. S. Stone, of Russell, democrat, and Wm. F. Neat, of Adair, republican. The district is a very close one, and a strong fight will be made by each party.

—The mother of Blind Tom, the imbecile piano phenomenon, brought suit to get possession of her son, on the ground that she was his natural guardian. The court decided that his adopted guardian, Gen. Bethune, was better able to take care of him, and decided against the mother.

GEO. O. BARNES.

Realizing the Dream of a Lifetime in Rome.

ALWAYS PRAISING THE LORD.

"PROSPECT POINT," LANDOUR, N. INDIA, May 30th, 1885.

DEAR INTERIOR.—I continue the continental journey: After a lunch, served up in full Italian style, under Bro. Newberry's directions, which we all enjoyed immensely, especially the maccaroni, writhing, slippery, elusive, unctuous, comestible that it is, we went to the Quirinal Palace. This stately pile was once the summer palace of the popes for 300 years, but since the famous 20th of September, 1870, has been occupied as a regal residence. Here the sturdy Victor Emanuel answered the demand of the pope to vacate his premises, with the unmistakable "Here I am and here will I remain," that was an end of all controversy. Bro. Newberry conferred most earnestly with a majestic looking official in blazing uniform, and the result was a permission to go over the accessible rooms of the palace. Ancient and modern grandeur compete here for the ascendancy. It is a residence worthy of a monarch. The suite of drawing and reception rooms have been recently fitted up in superb adornment of upholstery, that fairly dazzled the eye, each differing from all the others, yet each a masterpiece of furnishing in itself. Napoleon the First has been a guest in this stately building, and the frieze of the ancient audience chamber is a cast of one of Thorwaldsen's master pieces ordered by the Emperor as a complimentary memento of his visit. The blending of ancient and modern is however in such exquisite taste that one can hardly discern where the one ends and the other begins. In room No. 10, of the gorgeous suite, the Mosaics on the floor are from the Villa of Hadrian, the Roman Emperor. In No. 14 there is a curious specimen of the way in which Pius IX avenged himself in an artistic way for his ignominious flight from his capital in 1848. He had the ceiling of this room adorned by a skillful hand representing our Savior slaying the Jews when they endeavored to cast him over a precipice. (Luke iv:28, 29). We spent an hour of sustained enjoyment of royal magnificence, and got an idea of how Kings look at home, that will answer for a lifetime, in that department. And yet, though not caring to see another, but for that hour's stroll, through the king of Italy's Palace, we should have had an ungratified curiosity, that would not have been pleasant. In the square in front of the entrance a group of statuary, very ancient, rather thrills a new comer with the inscription in tarnished letters upon the pedestals of two colossal marble horses—"Opus Phidias" "Opus Praxitelis." These statues of Horse tamers are frequently mentioned in history, but they do not owe their spirited outlines to the chisels of the two masters, whose work they are claimed by the apocryphal inscriptions to be. Biedeker says they are the work of a later, imperial age. I know nothing about it. I rather disbelieve the guide book and enjoyed the ecstasy of thinking they were originals. There is nothing like credibility, for full gratification in foreign travel. Leave your critical, investigating powers at home, unless you wish to court misery.

We closed our first delightful day by riding a mile outside the walls to inspect the Roman St. Pauls. This is another of the five Patriarchal churches, under the Pope's presidency, the whole forming a community to which the whole body of believers throughout the section was considered to belong. St. John of Lateran; St. Peter; St. Paul; St. Maria Maggiore and St. Lorenz are the five. We visited the first four. This grand St. Pauls—the guide books to the contrary notwithstanding, is to my taste the most superb church in Rome, though, of course, St. Peter's eclipses everything in mere vastness of dimension. What it was before being burned in 1823—when, all agree; it was incomparably grander than it is now—I can not begin to conceive. The restoration is on the basis of the original plan and dimensions—the latter being interiorly 390 feet long and 195 wide and 75 feet high. According to tradition St. Paul was buried here by a pious lady—Lucine by name—whose property once covered this sacred spot. I yielded myself to the legend and enjoyed myself accordingly. It is just as likely true as most other things we accept when they please us. Why should I think everything a Papist believes to be false? I will not submit to such stringency of narrowness. A very striking feature of the internal adornment of St. Pauls is a series of Medallion portraits, in Mosaic, of all the Popes, each 5 feet in diameter and artistically arranged around the cornices.

Returning to our hotel for 7 o'clock dinner, we drove through the Ghetto or Jewish quarter. Here is shown "Paul's hired house," where for two years he taught all who came to him, chained to his Roman sentinel, meanwhile a dear "Ambassador in bonds" as he pathetically describes himself. Here too, I dined with the current and enjoyed the luxury of standing in the narrow stone doorway and peering up the contracted stone stairway and fully believing the dear apostle had stood there in propria persona "once upon a time." Why not? He certainly lived in some "hired house" in Rome. Why not that one? Why reject a possible identity? Again let me say if you doubt in Rome you are lost. O the suffering travelers with incredulous smiles at the corners of their mouths, and scepticism of speech, who have continued to rob themselves of all joy in visiting the grand old city! "To their assembly, mine honor, be not thou united."

Our Hotel is everything comfortable, that we could wish. Marble stairways of course. What else could one walk on in Rome but marble and Mosaics? Both are as common as pine boards with us. "Elevator" plying ceaselessly, supplied the lack of breath and muscle to weary travelers, in ascending to the loftier stories. We paid 10 francs per day, which covered everything. Less than $2 per diem is very cheap for Rome, at a first-class hotel, as is the Allemagne or British, being interpreted.

A walk after dinner through the lighted streets and especially up and down the brilliant Corso—Rome's "Broadway"—and the ancient Via Flaminia, leading from the Capitol, and 1880 yards (or more than a mile) long—prepared us to enjoy the rest of good days, which we had the pleasure of finding awaiting us; that no single thing might be lacking to the unmingled delights of the enchanted hours of this memorable day. I do not think that a more grateful, happy party of tourists ever rode or walked the streets of Rome than our seven. The very number was suggestive of the perfection of enjoyment. We fairly reveled in the goodness of the dear LORD, in giving us to enjoy it all in him. After all that is the only pleasure, without a bit of sting in it. Ever in Je-course. What else could one walk on in Rome but marble and Mosaics? Both are as common as pine boards with us. "Elevator" plying ceaselessly, supplied the lack of breath and muscle to weary travelers, in ascending to the loftier stories. We paid 10 francs per day, which covered everything. Less than $2 per diem is very cheap for Rome, at a first-class hotel, as is the Allemagne or British, being interpreted.

GEO. O. BARNES.

A walk after dinner through the lighted streets and especially up and down the brilliant Corso—Rome's "Broadway"—and the ancient Via Flaminia, leading from the Capitol, and 1880 yards (or more than a mile) long—prepared us to enjoy the rest of good days, which we had the pleasure of finding awaiting us; that no single thing might be lacking to the unmingled delights of the enchanted hours of this memorable day. I do not think that a more grateful, happy party of tourists ever rode or walked the streets of Rome than our seven. The very number was suggestive of the perfection of enjoyment. We fairly reveled in the goodness of the dear LORD, in giving us to enjoy it all in him. After all that is the only pleasure, without a bit of sting in it. Ever in Je-

To Our Friends & Patrons:

Beginning with July 1, 1885, we announce our third year's business in Stanford. Our trade has been far beyond our expectations; a gradual increase month after month. We take this opportunity of thanking you for your very liberal patronage and assure that in our various branches our motto shall be "The Best Goods for the Least Money." Again thanking you for favors, we hope to see all of old customers and many new ones in the coming year.

Respectfully,

BRIGHT & CURRAN.

W. H. HIGGINS,

DEALER IN

Hardware, Horse Shoes, Groceries, Saddles, Iron, Nails, Queensware, Buggy Whips, Buggy Wheels, Stoves, Cane Mills, Harness, Spokes, Grates, Old Mill, Lap Covers, Rhins, Stoneware, Corn Shellers, Collars, Oliver Chilled, Champion Steel and Brinley Combined Plows, Wooden and Cast Fumps, and the Celebrated Mayfield Elevator. Tin Roofing and Guttering will have prompt attention.

Salesmen (W. B. McKinney, John Bright, Jr.)

THE NEW GROCERY AND HARDWARE HOUSE OF TAYLOR BROS. HUSTONVILLE, KY.

Would kindly ask your attention to the fact that they have just returned from the cities with a large and well selected stock of CHOICE

FAMILY GROCERIES

In endless variety, dainty in quality and satisfactory in price; this we guarantee. Our aim shall be at all times to supply every want in our line.

OUR HARDWARE AND POCKET CUTLERY

Consists of the Standard Brands of Europe and America. Our large line of Cooking Stoves includes the justly celebrated "Great Western Reserve" and many other family favorites. Our China, Glass and Queensware stock consists in part of Table, Tea and Chamber Sets complete, Glassware richly cut and etched. In the way of Bredstuffs we name Buckwheat Flour, the queen of all tribes. Our celebrated Patent "G. M." Flour, unrivaled for cake and pastry, while Rice and Hominy, our own patriotic products, arrayed as faithful adjuncts. All the delicacies in Foreign and Domestic Confections are here. Tin, Stone, Wooden and Willowware, Electric Lamps, Stationery, Canned Meats and Fruits and a complete line of Cigars and Tobacco. Well, this is only a hint of what we have. Believing that we can make it to your interest, we confidently ask an examination of our goods and your patronage.

Respectfully,

TAYLOR BROTHERS.

Penny & M'Allister

PHARMACISTS.

DRAGERS IN

Drugs, Books, Stationery and Fancy Articles.

Physicians' prescriptions accurately compounded.

Also

JEWELERS.

The Largest Stock of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry and Silverware

Ever bought to this market. Prices Lower than the Lowest. Watches, Clocks and Jewelry Repaired on short notice and Warranted.

B. K. WEAREN,

UNDERTAKER,

AND

Dealer in Furniture!

A Full and complete assortment of Furniture, embracing everything from the Cheapest to the Finest Parlor Suites. No need to go to the large cities to make your purchases, no matter what quantity or quality you want, as I can and will duplicate any prices you can obtain elsewhere, freight being added. Also a full assortment of Coffins, Cases, Shrouds and Robes, embracing all the New Styles, both cheap and expensive. Ware rooms opposite St. Asaph Hotel, Stanford, Ky.

Stanford, Ky., July 14, 1885

L. & N. LOCAL TIME CARD.

Mail train going North 1:20 P. M.
" " South 1:40 P. M.
Express train " South 1:32 A. M.
" " North 2:05 A. M.

The above is calculated on standard time. Solar time is about 20 minutes faster.

LOCAL NOTICES.

FRESH Candies always at T. R. Walton's, BUY your school books from Penny & McAlister.

WATCHES and Jewelry repaired on short notice and warranted by Penny & McAlister.

BUY the Habs Hog Remedy, the original and only genuine, from Penny & McAlister.

A COMPLETE stock of jewelry, latest style. Rockford watches a specialty. Penny & McAlister.

FARMERS, READ THIS.—Go to Dr. M. L. Bourne's drug store and get one package of Sam A. Clark's Hog Remedy. If you are not satisfied after using it your money will be refunded.

PERSONAL.

MRS. SUSAN STEWART is lying at the point of death.

MRS. G. H. McKinney has gone to Dripping Springs.

MRS. T. J. BUSLEY has gone to Washington county to visit relatives.

MISS IDA VANARDELL, of McAfee, is the guest of Mrs. H. J. McRoberts.

MISS HALLIE WELSH, of Bryantown, is a guest of her cousin, Miss Daisy Burnside.

MRS. M. V. TABLET and Miss Helen Bibb were the guests of Mrs. Reuben Williams.

MISS RHODA LUNSFORD and Mattie VanDevere have returned from Dripping Springs.

WILLIE B. WALTON is back from a delightful visit to his parents and friends in Virginia.

MRS. G. G. TAYLOR, and her daughter Miss Libbie, are visiting the family of Mr. P. L. Simpson.

MRS. LAURA ADAMS, who has been attending the Normal school at Glasgow, returned Saturday.

REV. A. S. MOFFETT was called to Virginia Friday by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his mother.

MRS. S. E. SHULTZ and her daughter, Miss Bettie Brumbaugh, of Pleasant Hill, Mo., are with Mrs. E. A. Dawson.

MR. AND MRS. H. C. WALLACE, Miss Birdie and two more of their children, of Lexington, Mo., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bledsoe at Mr. J. P. Bailey's.

THE many friends of Mr. Edward C. Hopper here and at Lancaster, will be glad to know that he is to be Chief Deputy under Collector Davison at Covington.

OUR clever English friend, Mr. L. P. Banks, has our thanks for a budget of late New Zealand papers, from which we will make extracts for our succeeding issues.

MRS. J. H. WARREN has become a grandmother again since she arrived at her son's, Dr. J. W. Dawson's, at Cleveland, O. It is a boy and he has been named Walter Warren.

COL. S. F. B. MORSE, Passenger agent of the K. C., came over to see the excursion go through all right. Some 10 or 12 only went from here but the train went into Covington loaded down.

THE Gold & Silver Band composed as follows are taking in the delights of Rock Castle Springs: Dr. L. F. Huffman, Prof. W. B. Mundell, J. T. Carson, C. C. Carson, Joe F. Waters, D. R. Carpenter, A. Sibenthal, Will Saverance, A. A. Warren, and E. C. Walton. Mr. L. F. Huffman, Mrs. Mundell and Mrs. Theodore King accompanied the party.

LOCAL MATTERS.

A LITTLE girl at Mr. B. K. Weare's is among the latest arrivals.

FOR RENT.—A desirable office in Lawyer's Row, on Lancaster street, W. P. Walton.

PERSONS indebted to me for millinery will confer a great favor by settling at once Mrs. M. V. Tablet.

THE School Superintendent, Rev. J. A. Bogie, will be in Stanford next Friday evening and Saturday.

MRS. WILL CRAIG's little baby, whose birth was recorded in our issue of the 7th, died Sunday. It had been named Ada Belle.

A COFFIN marked the place where the "Thin Column" usually appears in the Richmond Register, in its issue of the 10th. If this means that it has gone dead, we unite with an afflicted community in a fervent, "Praise the Lord." May the good Master save us from ever looking on its like again.

THERE was a bidder for each mile of the 34 from Gallatin to Scottsville at the letting of the Chesapeake & Nashville Saturday, among them El. McCarty, of Danville; J. C. Rodemer, Mason & Gooch and C. M. Shanaahn. After the bids have been examined by Chief Engineer Spradlin they will be forwarded to New York where the awards will be made at once.

THE business portion of Main street is now enjoying a season of restful calmness that it has not known since the band boys got their new tooting instruments. For months, both day and night, Eureka Hall has sent forth mingled sounds of melody and discord till everybody in hearing distance has had his tympanum so inflamed that when it was learned that the band was going to Rock Castle Springs, the music ridded populace with one accord determined to remain at home and enjoy that peace which he alone can who has listened to the incessant "practice" of an amateur brass band. We write this so that Manager Campbell may know why a larger excursion failed to go from here on Saturday last.

FRUIT Jars and Cans at T. R. Walton's.

SADDLER'S cradles, mowing blades &c., at Bright & Curran.

RI PING TEA, an extra fine brand, for sale at W. H. Higgins'.

JUST IN.—Car-load family flour. Special discount in quantity. Bright & Curran.

THE grand, fancy dress, inauguration ball, occurs at Crab Orchard Springs next Friday night.

DEATH.—David Huston, son of Sam Huston, died of typhoid fever Sunday, aged 28 years.

BIG reduction in all classes of summer goods. See bills for particulars and call on S. L. Powers & Co.

OUR Danville scribe sent his letter in time for last issue but it reached here Friday afternoon. We knew he never failed us.

AFTER a week at Rock Castle Springs, Dr. Huffman will be ready to serve his patrons again and they will please make a note of this.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP

Grass and Brier Scythes. T. R. Walton.

FOR SALE.—18 year old mules. For particulars address A. D. Root, Stanford.

The estimate of the wheat crop in 19 of the principal states gives an aggregate of 250,054,000 bushels.

Tom Robinson bought of H. T. Bush 10 old sheep weighing 1,377 lbs., at 3 cents and 38 lambs aggregating 2,305 lbs., at 41.

A Jersey cow, owned in the vicinity of Town, Tenn., is reported to have made thirty pounds and 15 ounces of butter in seven days.

Tansy tea is recommended as a safe and sure remedy for protecting cucumber vines against aphides and other small insects.

an county, where troops are now required to maintain the peace and enforce the law, there is not a church nor school-house, though the town has 500 or 600 inhabitants. The missionary and the school teacher should be sent to reinforce the soldiers.—[Louisville Times.]

The News says Elizabethtown is experiencing a general revival of religion that has awakened a lively interest in all the Protestants in the community. Unlike the usual revivals confined to one denomination or sect, this is a union of all the churches—Methodist, Christian, Baptist, Episcopalian and Presbyterians are each aroused and are doing all they can to save sinners. Rev. J. M. Evans, State Evangelist for the Presbyterian church, is conducting the meetings assisted by Rev. J. H. Hopper and the pastors of the different local churches. In a little over two weeks 102 conversions have been made, many of whom will join the church. The meetings will be continued as long as the interest lasts.

FOR DIVORCE has been filed by W. M. Vinson against Mrs. M. S. Vinson on the grounds of adultery and unchaste conduct generally.

OWING to a transposition of figures a mistake of $10,000 occurred in the Farmers' National Bank report, which compels us to publish it again. We had the deposit $101,031.12 instead of $110,031.12.

SEVERE FALL.—Carroll Shanks, oldest son of Mrs. Lou Shanks, fell from the top of a 15 foot portico, Friday, to the rock pavement below. He struck on his right temple producing concussion of the brain from which he did not recover consciousness for many hours. No bones were broken. About this time last year he fell from a tree and broke both arms, and he has had many other narrow escapes from death.

MAN SHOT.—The Chappel version of the shooting of Joe Jones at the Luthersheim picnic is somewhat different from that given by our Crab Orchard correspondent but as the case will be tried here next Saturday it is useless to go into further details. All accounts agree that Jones acted very badly and brought the trouble on himself. He seems to have a propensity for disturbing picnics at Dripping Springs a year ago, he shot at John Billard in a crowded ball room for little or no provocation.

DRIPPING SPRINGS.

[To the Editor of The Interior Journal.]

Several persons leave for home to day, consequently a few vacant rooms. Now don't all come at once, please. The latter part of last week we were up to our full capacity, 100 guests, not counting children and nurses, and had to put some parties in cottages and ball room. Every body pleased. Respectfully, D. G. Slaughter.

P. S. My testimonials are anyone and everyone who has been here this season.

D. G. S.

McKINNEY, LINCOLN COUNTY.

Mr. D. S. Johnston sold 22 head of miles belonging to Bennett Cloyd, Jr., on Saturday.

W. R. Gooch and family have gone to the Mountains to spend a few weeks' vacation. Misses Mattie and Jessie Woolums and Miss Jennie Sharp, of Lexington, are visiting Mrs. L. F. Sharp. Mrs. Jno. Armstrong and two children, of Dallas, Texas, are visiting Mrs. E. T. Young.

THE picnic given under the auspices of the Baptist church at the beautiful grove of Dr. B. F. Estis, about 1 mile from town, was a grand success in every particular. The opening address and prayer was made by the Rev. Jas. Coleman. The choir, composed of local talent, under the leadership of Mr. H. C. Jones, rendered the beautiful anthem, "The Lord is my Shepherd" and acquitted themselves with honor, after which the children delighted the audience with Hymns and recitations. Of course the most important feature of the day was the "dinner" of which we can not say too much. The tables were loaded and fairly groaned under the weight of this elegant repast, for everything was prepared in the best of style and in abundance. After the dinner short addresses were delivered by T. C. Jasper and the Rev. J. M. Bruce, of Stanford. The crowd dispersed about 4 o'clock, everybody being delighted with the day's pleasure.

MONTICELLO.—Miss Tillie Hall, of Stanford, is here visiting friends.—Mr. D. B. Edmiston, of Stanford, visited friends in Monticello and vicinity the early part of this week.—Twenty-two head of fat cattle belonging to R. Burnett passed through town Wednesday on their way to Stanford.—J. R. Oats & Bro. sold to J. & I. Bartle son a lot of sheep and lambs, thirty head in all, at 40 for lambs and 23¢ for the latter.—Eld. John I. Rogers, of Danville, has been preaching in this county again this week. During his six weeks of labor here nearly one hundred persons have been converted and some $2,500 raised for church purposes. This godly man although nearly three score years and ten, is an untiring laborer.—The INTERIOR JOURNAL of Stanford, a prince among country papers, is gladly welcomed in its semi-weekly visits. Its straightforward, out-spoken, fearless course is one to be admired.—[Signal.]

MARRIAGES.

Invitations have been received as follows: 1860—1885. Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Len G. Edelin, at home, Thursday, July 16th, from 8 to 11 o'clock P. M. Alum Springs. Len G. Edelin, Mary E. Tarkington. To look at this couple one can hardly realize that they have been married 25 years. Mrs. Edelin is as young and handsome in appearance as most women are at 25 and Mr. Edelin holds his own remarkably well.

RELIGIOUS.

Dr. Blanton preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

Jim Beswley was baptized and received into the Christian church yesterday.

Rev. R. B. Mattox, of South Carolina, will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday.

Father Paul Volk has gone to Danville to take charge of the two German colonies in Boyle and Lincoln counties.—[Courier Journal.]

Dr. Wishard, State Sunday School Evangelist, will be at the Presbyterian church, Thursday night, where he hopes to meet all the teachers and scholars in this section.

At Morehead, the county seat of Row-

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

At the urgent request of many friends P. L. SIMPSON, hereby announces himself a candidate for the Legislature from Lincoln county on a Prohibition Platform.

English & Classical School

Christian College Building, HUNSTONVILLE, KY.

The Third Annual Session will open Wednesday SEPT. 16, 1885. Course of Instruction thorough. Development of the mind to be attained. Terms reasonable. Particulars apply to JOHN E. BURGIN, MISS H. BURGIN, Principals.

MAMMOTH CAVE!

AMERICA'S GREATEST WONDER

Write for club rates and get 10 or more of your friends to visit this interesting Cave. Season tickets to Cave free to summer boarders. The summer resort known. Thermometer 66 degrees at the mouth of the cave. A good band in attendance.

W. C. COMSTOCK, Lessee Mammoth Cave Hotel, Cave City, Ky.

THORNDALE BOY!

Four years old, is registered No. 11173 in the A. J. C. Book, will serve cows at $5. His sire is Thorndale 2d; g. s. Balora 2357; g. g. s. St. Martin, Imp., No. 1482 and dam is Julia Ingleside No. 1142; g. d. Betty Ingleside, No. 844; Nora, Imp., No. 1399; Silver, Imp., No. 1274; Louise, Imp., No. 2963; Victoria, Imp., 228. Louise, Imp., No. 27-11. J. G. CARPENTER, Stanford, Ky.

JOHN F. HOLTZCLAW, Agent for E. H. Smith's Heirs

6 am

THE BEST GOODS

LOGS WANTED.

I will pay the highest price for good, sound Walnut, Cherry and Hickory Logs delivered at any station of the L. & N., K. C. or C. S. R.

R. J. OTTENHEIMER, Crab Orchard, Ky.

MILLERSBURG

FEMALE COLLEGE

This popular school for young ladies will be re-opened, under entirely new auspices,

SEPTEMBER 9th, 1885.

WITH

Rev. C. Pope, of Augusta, Ga., as President,

AND

Mrs. S. C. Trueheart as Lady Principal,

Aided by one of the most competent and experienced faculties in the State. Parents may rest assured of the most thorough training of their daughters in all that pertains to mind, manners and morals, it committed to our care.

For catalogues containing information as to terms, &c., addressee.

REV. C. POPE, Millersburg, Ky.

Or MRS. S. C. TRUEHEART, Stanford, Ky.

GENERAL ORDINANCE

CONCERNING

The Improvement of Sidewalks with Brick Pavement.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of Stanford, that unless otherwise provided by the Ordinance directing the work to be done, the grading, curbing and paving or the regrading, recuring and repaving of any sidewalk or portion thereof within the corporate limits of the city of Stanford which the City Council may order to be so improved, shall be executed as follows:

Sec. 1. The grading shall agree with the pitch and grade of the sidewalk, with a sufficient depth below the curb to admit the sand or fine gravel and brick pavement being properly placed. Where there is embankment the sides shall be sloped as much as may be necessary to sustain the pavement in its position.

Sec. 2. At the outer edge of the pavement and supporting it, shall be laid a line of curb-stones not less than five inches in width and each stone shall be at least three feet in length. Curb-stones shall, in all cases, have a full square joint, not less than twelve inches deep. The curbstones shall be toolled down to a uniform straight line for a full depth of two inches below the top

AMELIA FOLSOM.

THE RULE OF BRIGHAM YOUNG'S FAVORITE, "NUMBER SEVENTEEN."

Not Pretty Nor Attractive, but Possessed of Native Shrewdness and Tact—The Prophet Was Grievedly Afraid of Her.

[Little Lester in New York World.]

Old Brigham Young had been gathered to his "sealed wives in glory" only about one year when his favorite—polygamous favorite, Amelia Folsom—stepped into another harem as number two in the household of a Mormon railroad official. Amelia Folsom was then about 35 years of age, and among the younger women of the Young harem. She was the first to re-enter polygamy after Brigham's death, and her "days of mourning" were probably long enough to add zest to the new courtship. As soon as Brigham "shuffled off" his mortality and passed beyond that wall where a score of sealed divinities awaited him, the long-petted Amelia set about making "a change." She placed herself second in the new household. She found that she could not live in the same extravagance, as the property of her much-married lord was subject to litigation, and secured her chance against disaster in her second polygamous marriage.

She went to Salt Lake City with her parents, who were converts to Mormonism in Council Bluffs, Iowa, and emigrated there in 1850. In 1861 Brigham had one of his convenient revelations to marry Amelia. She was not easily led into the family of sixteen other wives, and proved a refractory subject for Mormon courtship.

Finally through what is called "counsel," otherwise the will of the prophet enforced, which every good Mormon will obey and regards as the word of superhuman prophecy, she became the seventeenth wife, and always held her place as his favorite.

"Oh, women. There are 800 girls working at this business in Chicago alone. They work by the piece and make more or less money, according to their expertise. A good finisher can make $5 or $8 a week. She takes a necklace after it is put together and finishes each detail perfectly, so that it is ready to box. Three different colors of the same design, made in the same style, are boxed together to give a dealer an assortment in the one make. The finisher must see that all of this kind are exactly alike in point of finish and make-up. We have one girl who does nothing but turn the bands of necklaces and who makes $15 a week. She is capable of turning twenty-five or thirty dozen bands each day."

"The 'cheap wear' now flooding the market is composed of old styles, made of poor goods, which the cheap trade in New York has succeeded in buying up and sending all over the country. As a rule men show no discrimination in purchasing necklaces.

They look into a window, see a tie that takes their fancy, and then rush in to buy it, never stopping to ask the price. Thus, they are apt to buy one of the cheap kind that will not look well a week as one of better quality. A good necklace is the result of art and study. It can't be turned out for a song."

HIGH ART IN NECKLACES.

How They Are Made and Sold—Special Grades and Fabrics.

[Chicago News.]

"There are special grades and designs of necklaces made exclusively for the necktie trade," said a manufacturer. "These materials are made from patterns designed by men who do nothing else than study up new things in neckties."

"I go to New York to look at new designs about once every two months. There are from fifty to seventy-five necktie factories in this country and ten or twelve first-class makers. The latter usually secure exclusive right to use certain styles of goods from the makers by buying either the entire stock offered to the American market or a large quantity of it. But the success of making up the goods is just like a lottery ticket. Perhaps one year I may make a hit on some particular design and it will become so popular that all the other makers will be forced to adopt it. But the next season some one in Boston or New York may make the hit and I will have to follow him. There's never any telling how a necklace is going to take with the public until it is put on the market. Then its success may depend altogether on who adopts it first. If he happens to be a howling swell, and on the right side of popular favor, that particular kind of necklace will sell like all possessed."

"Are the styles of making up necklaces originated abroad?"

"Now, then. They were until less than three years ago, but our styles are so much superior to the European now that they are coming over here to get patterns. However, there is a tendency to English fashions for the fall."

"Are men or women employed to make up necklaces?"

"Oh, women. There are 800 girls working at this business in Chicago alone. They work by the piece and make more or less money, according to their expertise. A good finisher can make $5 or $8 a week. She takes a necklace after it is put together and finishes each detail perfectly, so that it is ready to box. Three different colors of the same design, made in the same style, are boxed together to give a dealer an assortment in the one make. The finisher must see that all of this kind are exactly alike in point of finish and make-up. We have one girl who does nothing but turn the bands of necklaces and who makes $15 a week. She is capable of turning twenty-five or thirty dozen bands each day."

"The 'cheap wear' now flooding the market is composed of old styles, made of poor goods, which the cheap trade in New York has succeeded in buying up and sending all over the country. As a rule men show no discrimination in purchasing necklaces.

They look into a window, see a tie that takes their fancy, and then rush in to buy it, never stopping to ask the price. Thus, they are apt to buy one of the cheap kind that will not look well a week as one of better quality. A good necklace is the result of art and study. It can't be turned out for a song."

Those Red Top Boots.

[Shoe and Leather Review.]

Do you remember them—the first pair you wore? You can close your eyes and see them again—stiff and black and heavy soled. And what points of beauty in your eyes were those red tops and bright copper toes! The memory of them brings you back to that period in your life, where infancy passed into boyhood, and where dreams came to you of being a big man. They marked the beginning of your independence, of your strength, of your recognition as one of earth's creatures.

Better far, they brought surcease of ridicule, so galling to a boy's pride, for they came with pants and short hair in place of dresses and curls. How often have you gone sobbing to your mother, your heart full of grief and mortification, because a bigger boy had pulled your hair, and called you a girl! The changes came all at once. Mother made the pants, and one evening she brought home the red top boots. Then she put the scissors into your soft curls, cut them off, kissed them and put them away. She was sorry to see the baby become a boy; but how your soul swelled! How you longed for the morning that you might wear them! How joyfully you cried out to little Billy Brown, across the street, that you had "pants and boots." And Billy probably answered sullenly: "I don't care."

Amelia Folsom was the only exception.

Some years prior to Brigham's death she was given a separate house and always made a better appearance in dress than any of the rest. She drove in her own carriage and was given the place of honor at the theatre in the prophet's private box, while his other wives and children occupied three tiers of the best seats in the parquet. Other marks of honor fell to Amelia. She was the first partner in the dances they attended and was always seated in the chair of honor at his side at banquets. His other "better pieces of wives" waited for such attentions as fell to their divided lot after the favorite was waited on. This marriage of the Mormon sacerdote was highly disapproved by the church authorities at the time. No one considered Amelia a suitable person for the wife of a prophet.

Amelia Folsom has blue eyes that open at one in bold, steady defiance with a glance of native cunning and shrewdness; medium height, a good figure, brown hair, straight, thin nose and generally tapering features. Her manner is free and familiar, rather boisterous at times, utterly regardless of the feelings of others, and she has a relish for gossip. She was always a cause of disturbance between the children of the other wives and the prophet, but, being the favorite, her intrigues were overlooked by her polygamous master.

One of her characteristic pastimes was spending a few hours with some of the less favored wives and indulging jokes and stories on Brigham—telling what he had confided to her, upon matters he did not expect to be spoken of. Some of this gossip related to the "old man" she spiced up with her addition and merriment, always tending to make him as ridiculous as possible.

Amelia's open revolt to Brigham's authority was one of her chief boasts, and among his wives it was a common remark, "If one of us had said or done what Amelia did we should have heard of it before this."

In her way she was as great a tyrant over him as he was over the church. Whatever she set her mind to do that she did, irrespective of his wish or opposition.

To have her enmity was dangerous to any person, man or woman, who depended for favor and prosperity on Brigham's favor.

They knew Amelia's power over the prophet and stood in fear of her accordingly. Her home in Salt Lake City before Brigham's death was one of the best in the City of Saints. It stood opposite the Lion and Beehive houses, and was the envy of others who felt the need and realized the value of sole possession and authority of one's own household that this favorite wife practically enjoyed.

Cruelty to Coachmen.

[New York Sun.]

A magnificently-appointed victoria drew up in front of the house of a prominent physician on Fifth avenue during the intense heat of the hottest day last week, and a fashionably-dressed woman, who sat in the vehicle under the shade of a great parasol, rose languidly and passed into the house. It was about midday, and the sun beat down fiercely. There was no shade in the street.

On the box of the victoria sat a picture of mystery. He was the most proper of coachmen, laced tight, and perfectly erect. His heavy cloth coat fitted him like a kid glove, and his high hat, with his big cockade, was fixed firmly on his nose. His gloves were tanned leather, fashionable and thick. The sun seemed to concentrate its force upon him, and his high collar gave way easily and became wavering and low. Beads of perspiration dripped with regularity from the tip of the chin of his arrogant mug, but the expression of sedate and solemn propriety never changed. A blackman who smoked a pipe, while he sat outside, within his yellow cab, gazed at the private coachman with serene contentment during the two hours that the coachman sat in a statue.

The Children of Mormonism.

The children of Mormonism do not know that they live in the United States, never hear of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, and believe that the head of the Mormon church is the ruler of the country.

GUESTS OF THE HOTEL.

THE COUNTRY COUSIN AND THE ROUNDER ARE ALWAYS WELCOME.

The Usual Programme of a Visitor—Difference in City Guests—What Countrymen Are Learning—Trouble with the Kickers.

[New York Sun.]

"There are special grades and designs of necklaces made exclusively for the necktie trade," said a manufacturer. "These materials are made from patterns designed by men who do nothing else than study up new things in neckties."

"I go to New York to look at new designs about once every two months. There are from fifty to seventy-five necktie factories in this country and ten or twelve first-class makers. The latter usually secure exclusive right to use certain styles of goods from the makers by buying either the entire stock offered to the American market or a large quantity of it. But the success of making up the goods is just like a lottery ticket. Perhaps one year I may make a hit on some particular design and it will become so popular that all the other makers will be forced to adopt it. But the next season some one in Boston or New York may make the hit and I will have to follow him. There's never any telling how a necklace is going to take with the public until it is put on the market. Then its success may depend altogether on who adopts it first. If he happens to be a howling swell, and on the right side of popular favor, that particular kind of necklace will sell like all possessed."

"Are the styles of making up necklaces originated abroad?"

"Now, then. They were until less than three years ago, but our styles are so much superior to the European now that they are coming over here to get patterns. However, there is a tendency to English fashions for the fall."

"Are men or women employed to make up necklaces?"

"Oh, women. There are 800 girls working at this business in Chicago alone. They work by the piece and make more or less money, according to their expertise. A good finisher can make $5 or $8 a week. She takes a necklace after it is put together and finishes each detail perfectly, so that it is ready to box. Three different colors of the same design, made in the same style, are boxed together to give a dealer an assortment in the one make. The finisher must see that all of this kind are exactly alike in point of finish and make-up. We have one girl who does nothing but turn the bands of necklaces and who makes $15 a week. She is capable of turning twenty-five or thirty dozen bands each day."

"The 'cheap wear' now flooding the market is composed of old styles, made of poor goods, which the cheap trade in New York has succeeded in buying up and sending all over the country. As a rule men show no discrimination in purchasing necklaces.

They look into a window, see a tie that takes their fancy, and then rush in to buy it, never stopping to ask the price. Thus, they are apt to buy one of the cheap kind that will not look well a week as one of better quality. A good necklace is the result of art and study. It can't be turned out for a song."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show, profusely advertised and holding forth a promise of innumerable pink tights, rouged cheeks, high-heeled slippers, low-necked dresses, and the like, it will gather in the countrymen with a force that no power on earth can resist. It does not make the slightest difference what the other attractions in town may be, who the visitor is, whether parson or plowman, he is sure to go to the burlesque shows. At 11 o'clock he comes in tired out and ready for bed. At 6 he is out in the corridor or in the smoking-room, picking his teeth and staring into the street. He never thinks of eating after the theatre is over, and eats his biggest meal in the middle of the day. He makes the best guest that the hotel can entertain, for he is quiet and unobtrusive and content with decent treatment. He has a morbid horror of running in debt, and is punctilious in the matter of payment. Take him all in, our country cousin is a pretty square and solid sort of a man, and he always finds a welcome at the best hotels."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show, profusely advertised and holding forth a promise of innumerable pink tights, rouged cheeks, high-heeled slippers, low-necked dresses, and the like, it will gather in the countrymen with a force that no power on earth can resist. It does not make the slightest difference what the other attractions in town may be, who the visitor is, whether parson or plowman, he is sure to go to the burlesque shows. At 11 o'clock he comes in tired out and ready for bed. At 6 he is out in the corridor or in the smoking-room, picking his teeth and staring into the street. He never thinks of eating after the theatre is over, and eats his biggest meal in the middle of the day. He makes the best guest that the hotel can entertain, for he is quiet and unobtrusive and content with decent treatment. He has a morbid horror of running in debt, and is punctilious in the matter of payment. Take him all in, our country cousin is a pretty square and solid sort of a man, and he always finds a welcome at the best hotels."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show, profusely advertised and holding forth a promise of innumerable pink tights, rouged cheeks, high-heeled slippers, low-necked dresses, and the like, it will gather in the countrymen with a force that no power on earth can resist. It does not make the slightest difference what the other attractions in town may be, who the visitor is, whether parson or plowman, he is sure to go to the burlesque shows. At 11 o'clock he comes in tired out and ready for bed. At 6 he is out in the corridor or in the smoking-room, picking his teeth and staring into the street. He never thinks of eating after the theatre is over, and eats his biggest meal in the middle of the day. He makes the best guest that the hotel can entertain, for he is quiet and unobtrusive and content with decent treatment. He has a morbid horror of running in debt, and is punctilious in the matter of payment. Take him all in, our country cousin is a pretty square and solid sort of a man, and he always finds a welcome at the best hotels."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show, profusely advertised and holding forth a promise of innumerable pink tights, rouged cheeks, high-heeled slippers, low-necked dresses, and the like, it will gather in the countrymen with a force that no power on earth can resist. It does not make the slightest difference what the other attractions in town may be, who the visitor is, whether parson or plowman, he is sure to go to the burlesque shows. At 11 o'clock he comes in tired out and ready for bed. At 6 he is out in the corridor or in the smoking-room, picking his teeth and staring into the street. He never thinks of eating after the theatre is over, and eats his biggest meal in the middle of the day. He makes the best guest that the hotel can entertain, for he is quiet and unobtrusive and content with decent treatment. He has a morbid horror of running in debt, and is punctilious in the matter of payment. Take him all in, our country cousin is a pretty square and solid sort of a man, and he always finds a welcome at the best hotels."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show, profusely advertised and holding forth a promise of innumerable pink tights, rouged cheeks, high-heeled slippers, low-necked dresses, and the like, it will gather in the countrymen with a force that no power on earth can resist. It does not make the slightest difference what the other attractions in town may be, who the visitor is, whether parson or plowman, he is sure to go to the burlesque shows. At 11 o'clock he comes in tired out and ready for bed. At 6 he is out in the corridor or in the smoking-room, picking his teeth and staring into the street. He never thinks of eating after the theatre is over, and eats his biggest meal in the middle of the day. He makes the best guest that the hotel can entertain, for he is quiet and unobtrusive and content with decent treatment. He has a morbid horror of running in debt, and is punctilious in the matter of payment. Take him all in, our country cousin is a pretty square and solid sort of a man, and he always finds a welcome at the best hotels."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show, profusely advertised and holding forth a promise of innumerable pink tights, rouged cheeks, high-heeled slippers, low-necked dresses, and the like, it will gather in the countrymen with a force that no power on earth can resist. It does not make the slightest difference what the other attractions in town may be, who the visitor is, whether parson or plowman, he is sure to go to the burlesque shows. At 11 o'clock he comes in tired out and ready for bed. At 6 he is out in the corridor or in the smoking-room, picking his teeth and staring into the street. He never thinks of eating after the theatre is over, and eats his biggest meal in the middle of the day. He makes the best guest that the hotel can entertain, for he is quiet and unobtrusive and content with decent treatment. He has a morbid horror of running in debt, and is punctilious in the matter of payment. Take him all in, our country cousin is a pretty square and solid sort of a man, and he always finds a welcome at the best hotels."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show, profusely advertised and holding forth a promise of innumerable pink tights, rouged cheeks, high-heeled slippers, low-necked dresses, and the like, it will gather in the countrymen with a force that no power on earth can resist. It does not make the slightest difference what the other attractions in town may be, who the visitor is, whether parson or plowman, he is sure to go to the burlesque shows. At 11 o'clock he comes in tired out and ready for bed. At 6 he is out in the corridor or in the smoking-room, picking his teeth and staring into the street. He never thinks of eating after the theatre is over, and eats his biggest meal in the middle of the day. He makes the best guest that the hotel can entertain, for he is quiet and unobtrusive and content with decent treatment. He has a morbid horror of running in debt, and is punctilious in the matter of payment. Take him all in, our country cousin is a pretty square and solid sort of a man, and he always finds a welcome at the best hotels."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show, profusely advertised and holding forth a promise of innumerable pink tights, rouged cheeks, high-heeled slippers, low-necked dresses, and the like, it will gather in the countrymen with a force that no power on earth can resist. It does not make the slightest difference what the other attractions in town may be, who the visitor is, whether parson or plowman, he is sure to go to the burlesque shows. At 11 o'clock he comes in tired out and ready for bed. At 6 he is out in the corridor or in the smoking-room, picking his teeth and staring into the street. He never thinks of eating after the theatre is over, and eats his biggest meal in the middle of the day. He makes the best guest that the hotel can entertain, for he is quiet and unobtrusive and content with decent treatment. He has a morbid horror of running in debt, and is punctilious in the matter of payment. Take him all in, our country cousin is a pretty square and solid sort of a man, and he always finds a welcome at the best hotels."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show, profusely advertised and holding forth a promise of innumerable pink tights, rouged cheeks, high-heeled slippers, low-necked dresses, and the like, it will gather in the countrymen with a force that no power on earth can resist. It does not make the slightest difference what the other attractions in town may be, who the visitor is, whether parson or plowman, he is sure to go to the burlesque shows. At 11 o'clock he comes in tired out and ready for bed. At 6 he is out in the corridor or in the smoking-room, picking his teeth and staring into the street. He never thinks of eating after the theatre is over, and eats his biggest meal in the middle of the day. He makes the best guest that the hotel can entertain, for he is quiet and unobtrusive and content with decent treatment. He has a morbid horror of running in debt, and is punctilious in the matter of payment. Take him all in, our country cousin is a pretty square and solid sort of a man, and he always finds a welcome at the best hotels."

"What is the usual programme of a visitor?"

"Well, if there is a burlesque show,